

ML Strategies Health Care Preview - Week of March 19th

March 19, 2018 || By

Congress has until Friday to finalize a government spending bill. Over the next couple of days it will decide whether to move forward with a number of consequential health care issues, market stabilization and drug pricing chief among them. There is also the possibility of movement around short-term health plans. We cover this and more in this week's health care preview, which can be found here.
