

ML Strategies Health Care Preview - Week of April 9th

April 09, 2018 || By

This week, Congress returns from recess with its eyes set on addressing the opioid crisis. We expect to see some form of bipartisan legislation considered between now and Memorial Day. We will also see Congress dive into appropriations which will eat up plenty of time, not to mention nominations of Cabinet officials and appointments to the federal bench. We cover this and more in this week's health care preview, which you can find here.

Authors