

ML Strategies Health Care Preview - Week of January 7, 2019

January 07, 2019 || By

The partial government shutdown is on its 17th day with no end in sight. In this week's preview, we discuss how reaching a solution is challenging for both sides and implications for legislating going forward. We also cover some of the latest polling on health care issues, which may offer a preview into messaging in this space over the next two years. For this week's health care preview, please click here.

Authors